JOB DESCRIPTION

Great opportunity for a licensing analyst to be a part of the Licensing Governance Group of a well-respected northwest Atlanta company. This group is charged with monitoring customer compliance with financial and non-financial terms and conditions of the company's license agreements. You will interact with senior level executives at some of the world's most well-known companies as well as multiple groups in-house. You will identify and research audit candidates, interact with customers to explain and answer questions regarding the license audit process, review customer license agreements and reporting history, perform audits of software applications via use of technical tools or at customer locations, analyze sensitive customer information, prepare written reports of findings, communicate audit results to customer and internal stakeholders, participate in customer calls and assist in the negotiation of settlements to resolve non-compliance findings, generate business and contract improvement ideas, and document department procedures, process and standard templates, and provide recommendations regarding changes in the company's processes and policies. Fantastic role for a well-developed analytical individual with strong communication, multi-tasking and interpersonal skills.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 7-8 years' experience in a "Big 4" consulting firm in an audit department (auditing EXTERNAL clients) • Strong understanding of business transactions and IT concepts • Experience in conflict resolution, contracts, licensing and royalties • Broad business exposure within financial, operational and compliance areas
Travel:	25-35% domestic and international travel (all expenses paid)
Education:	Bachelor's degree in business related field, preferably Accounting
Experience:	7+ years
Certification:	n/a
